

PUBLIC INTERFACE

The proposed design for 1468 Alberni is comprised of two towers that rise from a townhouse scaled base. A variety of window types lend the building a residential character. The lower third of the towers create a mid-height that refers to the scale of Vancouver buildings from the early twentieth century.

Top to Bottom:
View of main entry; Main entry detail; Rental Entry.

The base is articulated with a courtyard garden, a series of residential apartment entrances and sculptural details to create a welcoming pedestrian environment.

OVERALL VIEWS

